

The diagram shows a generator powered by a water turbine. Water flows through the turbine blades and turns the shaft. The turning shaft then powers a generator. What energy conversion takes place in the water turbine generator?

- A) Electrical energy is converted to mechanical energy.
- B) Solar energy is converted to thermal energy.
- C) Thermal energy is converted to electrical energy.
- D) Kinetic energy is converted to electrical energy.