

Blank Periodic Table Assignment—Numerical Electrons

In each box on the periodic table, put the numerical electron configuration of the element that belongs at that position. Circle the number representing the number of valence electrons.